About the NASL

The North American Soccer League shattered league records in 2015 and is poised in 2016 for its most competitive year since launching its Modern Era in 2011.

Entering its sixth season of play, three new clubs were admitted to the league for the 2016 season. Rayo OKC, backed by the local owner Sean Jones and the Spanish La Liga club Rayo Vallecano's Raúl Martin Presa; and Miami FC, co-owned by the former star of Italy's national team and AC Milan, Paolo Maldini and MP & Silva's Riccardo Silva, joins the fray for the Spring Season. The New York Knicks star Carmelo Anthony is the owner of Puerto Rico FC, which begins play in the Fall Season.

The league has 12 clubs after the departure of the Atlanta Silverbacks and the San Antonio Scorpions. Neither team will participate in 2016.The three expansion sides join the Carolina RailHawks, FC Edmonton, Fort Lauderdale Strikers, Indy Eleven, Jacksonville Armada FC, Minnesota United FC, New York Cosmos, Ottawa Fury FC, and Tampa Bay Rowdies.

In addition to some new, forward-thinking owners joining an already impressive roster, there is eye-opening star power on the touchline and on the field of play. Maldini's longtime teammate with AC Milan and the Italian national team, Alessandro Nesta, heads Miami FC's inaugural campaign from the bench. On the field, the Cosmos added the Venezuelan national team's leader in goals and appearances, Juan Arango. Rayo OKC signed Derek Boateng, a veteran with Ghana's national team, and the Fort Lauderdale Strikers acquired Matheus Carvalho, who played recently in France for AS Monaco and appeared for that club in the UEFA Champions League.

New York (blue) and Carolina (orange) look to continue their intense match-ups in 2016.

About the NASL

The clubs will compete under the league's split-season format, which consists of 10 games in the Spring Season (April-June) and 22 in the Fall Season (July-October). The winners of the Spring and Fall Seasons earn a place in The Championship, the league's four-team postseason tournament. The two clubs with the next-best overall records receive the remaining postseason berths. The champion lifts the Soccer Bowl Trophy, the third-oldest professional outdoor soccer prize in the North America.

With a victory in front of an NASL Modern Era attendance record for a postseason match – 10,166 – last November, the Cosmos lifted the Soccer Bowl Trophy for an unprecedented seventh time – across the league's Golden and Modern Eras. New York was able to hold on for a 3-2 win, despite Ottawa Fury's late surge.

Jacksonville Armada FC celebrating with its home fans

The NASL's regular-season attendance record in the Modern Era was also broken. Jacksonville Armada FC's inaugural home match, played at EverBank Field, was witnessed by 16,164 spectators.

In addition to competing in league play, nine US-based clubs will play in the 103rd edition of the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup. The NASL's two Canadian teams – FC Edmonton and Ottawa Fury FC – will participate in the Amway Canadian Championship. Last year, the Eddies fell short of reaching the final for the first time in club history. In 2017, Puerto Rico FC will compete in the Caribbean Football Union Championship. The winner of each of those three competitions earns automatic entry into the CONCACAF Champions League.

The Commissioner

Bill Peterson was named North American Soccer League Commissioner on Nov. 27, 2012, and has been a driving force behind the growth of the league.

Peterson and the NASL added Indy Eleven and Ottawa Fury FC for the 2014 season, after welcoming the New York Cosmos back to the field, in 2013, after almost three decades in limbo. The league has since admitted the Jacksonville Armada FC, which began play in 2015. In 2016, three new teams – Rayo OKC, Miami FC, and Puerto Rico FC – will take the field.

Bill Peterson
NASL Commissioner

Peterson is no stranger to North American soccer, having served as the senior vice president of AEG Sports and the managing director of the Home Depot Center from 2000-06. He played a significant role in the oversight and management of numerous MLS teams, and the development of soccer stadiums across the United States.

Most recently, Peterson served in an advisory capacity and provided event services to a variety of clients in Canada and the United States through his company, Solve4. Peterson is the chairman of the USA cycling board of Directors and a member of the USPRO Cycling board of trustees. He also served briefly as the chief operating officer of the UFL.

He was the executive vice president of Centerplate, the North American market leader for managing food and beverage, retail, restaurant and events in sports facilities, convention centers, and entertainment complexes. He spent six years working with a variety of teams, facilities, and sporting events while senior vice president at AEG in Los Angeles. Peterson spent almost a decade with the National Football League, rising to the position of president of NFL Europe after a spell as the general manager of the league's Amsterdam Admirals.

Board of Governors

Mark Frisch
Chairman - Board of Governers

The NASL is owned and operated by its member teams through the board of governors, which consists of a representative from each member team. Mark Frisch, the owner of the Jacksonville Armada FC, is the board's chairman.

The board oversees league rules and regulations, expansion and commercial strategy, and the league office.

Frisch is the executive vice president of Beaver Street Fisheries, a leading importer, manufacturer, and distributor of quality frozen seafood products from the U.S. and around the world. The company was founded in 1950 in north Florida by his grandfather. Frisch, who was the driving force behind professional soccer's return to Jacksonville after a 30-year absence, became chairman in September 2015 after a vote by board members.

Frisch also serves as the chairman of JAXUSA Partnership, the regional economic development organization of JAX Chamber. Frisch is also on the board of trustees at Jacksonville University, the board of directors for JAX Chamber, is a member of the Jacksonville Civic Council, and the board of directors for Baptist Health System. In 2010, he was named one of Jacksonville's "40 Under 40" by the Jacksonville Business Journal.

Competition Format

Rules and Regulations

Structure: The 2016 NASL season will once again be played under a split-season format. The Spring and Fall Season Champions will each host a semifinal in the league's four-team postseason tournament, The Championship, and the pair will be joined by the next two clubs with the best combined records. The top seed in The Championship will be awarded to either the Spring or Fall Champion, depending on which has the better combined record in the regular season. The third and fourth seeds will then be determined by the teams' positions in the Combined Standings. The top-seeded team after the semifinals will host The Championship Final. If one club wins both season championships, the clubs posting the second, third, and fourth-best overall records will enter The Championship.

Schedule: In the 2016 Spring Season, 11 teams will play a 10-game schedule, competing against each other once. Following a break at mid-June, the Fall Season will kick off on July 2 and consist of 12 teams and play a 24-game – home-and-away against each side – schedule.

Point System: Teams will receive three points for a win, one point for a draw, and zero points for a loss.

Referees: All referees for NASL matches played in the United States are nationally certified and assigned by the Professional Referee Organization (PRO), while the Canadian Soccer Association (CSA) assigns referees for all matches played in Canada. Puerto Rican Soccer Federation (Federación Puertorriqueña de Fútbol) will designate officials for the encounters in Puerto Rico.

Game Clock: The official game time for all NASL games will be managed on the field by the referee. If necessary, the referee may also allot extra time (stoppage time) at the end of each half – first, second, and if applicable, first overtime and second overtime during postseason games. The stadium clock will display the time from 0:00 to 45:00 and from 45:00 to 90:00 (plus stoppage time where applicable in each half). For statistical purposes, the minutes for goals, substitutions, yellow cards, etc., will be listed from the first minute until the 90th minute. For example, a goal scored at 15 minutes 10 seconds will be listed as having been scored in the 16th minute.

Team Rosters: During the season, each team's master roster shall be no less than 20 players and no more than 35 total players. Players can compete on a maximum of two teams per Spring or Fall Season.

Rules and Regulations

Active Roster and Inactive Roster: While the total roster size can be 35 players, only 30 are eligible to be on the active roster at a given time. Only the players listed on the active roster can compete in an NASL league game. When a player is on the inactive roster, the player must remain inactive for 30 days. To move a player from the active to inactive roster or vice versa, the team must notify the registrar, in writing, at least 48 hours before the league game to reflect the changes.

Domestic Players: Domestic players for teams located in the United States are a U.S. citizens, a permanent resident (green card holder) or the holder of other special status (e.g., refugee or asylum status). Domestic players for teams located in Canada are Canadian citizens, permanent resident, landed immigrant (non-Canadian citizen permanent residents) or players who qualify as a domestic player in the United States.

International Players: Each team may list up to seven non-domestic players on its master roster.

Game-Day Rosters: Each team may nominate 18 players from its active roster for a game-day roster. Teams are allowed three substitutions per game.

Cautions and Suspensions:
A player will be suspended for one game upon receiving a fifth accumulated yellow card throughout the Spring or Fall Seasons – regardless of the nature of the infraction. After a player has been suspended for five yellow cards, an additional one-game suspension will be added each time after another three yellow cards are accumulated. A player receiving two yellow cards in the same game will receive a red card and will be suspended for the next game. However, that will only count as one red card and not two yellow cards added to the accumulation total. A player that receives a direct red card will automatically be suspended for the next game, and the NASL Disciplinary Committee has the power to suspend him for additional games, depending upon the severity of the red-card offense.

Card Suspensions: Red-card and yellow-card accumulation suspensions earned in regular season games will be served in that player's next regular-season game. Any suspension for yellow-card accumulation earned in a player's last regular season game will carry over into that season's first postseason game for his team. Any player who receives a red-card in his team's last game of the season - NASL regular season or during postseason - will serve the one-game suspension during their next game (whether it comes in The Championship Semifinals, Final, or in the first regular-season game of the next season). All card suspensions will, if applicable, follow a player to a new team.

Suspension Manipulation:
Players suspended from NASL regular season or postseason games that are called in for national team duty will have their suspensions held in abeyance until they return to their NASL team. Teams will be responsible for informing the league office of a player's selection to national team duty. Failure to provide the League Office with such notice or to withhold the use of a suspended player when appropriate is subject to sanctions.

League Standings: The team awarded the highest position in the league standings will be the team with the greatest number of points at the conclusion of the respective Spring or Fall Season. In the event that two or more teams have an equal number of points, the following system will be used to determine their rank in the league standings:

1) Goal Differential: The highest position shall be awarded to the team with the greater goal difference against all other teams during the regular season.

2) Total Goals: The highest position shall be awarded to the team scoring the greatest number of total goals against all other teams during the regular season.

3) Head-To-Head Competition:
The highest position shall be awarded to the team with the best win/draw/loss record in regular-season games against all other teams equal in points.

4) Away Goal Difference/Away Goals Scored: The highest position shall be awarded to the team with the greater away goal differential than the other teams. If needed, the highest position shall be awarded to the team with the greater total of away goals scored.

Soccer Bowl Trophy: The winner of The Championship Final will be the league champion and receive the NASL Soccer Bowl Trophy.

League Ball and Silverware

NASL Offical Match Ball:

On March 1, 2016, the NASL and Under Armour entered into a partnership in which the sporting goods manufacturer provides the official NASL-branded match balls in all training sessions, games, and community activities. The match ball features the NASL's signature red and blue colors, as well as the league's logo. As one of the world's fastest-growing sports companies, Under Armour already has an extensive sports partner portfolio that features dozens of professional teams, college teams, and athletes from around the globe.

The Soccer Bowl Trophy

The Soccer Bowl Trophy, named to honor the heritage of the NASL Legendary Era, will be awarded annually to the winner of The Championship Final. The Soccer Bowl Trophy, which is third oldest men's professional outdoor soccer prize in the United States, was crafted in England and designed by 343RLP+ Creative. Each year, the NASL Champion has its team name engraved on the Soccer Bowl Trophy.

Spring and Fall Championship Trophies

Awarded to the winners of the respective Spring and Fall Championships, the trophies were custom made in England and designed by 343RLP+ Creative, the same company behind the Soccer Bowl Trophy and NASL league branding.

Last year ended in storybook fashion in the North American Soccer League. The New York Cosmos saw off into retirement the Spanish stars Raúl and Marcos Senna with one more title, hoisting the Soccer Bowl Trophy in November.

In 2016, each NASL team has one objective: Dethroning the defending champions.

"2016 is shaping up to be our best year ever," NASL Commissioner Bill Peterson said. "Both on and off the field we've seen significant development and improvements being made across the league."

FC Edmonton's Eddie Edward (white) makes sliding tackle vs New York Cosmos (green).

NASL clubs have scoured the soccer world for the best talent. Several high-profile internationals have joined the league, bringing with them experience in the biggest club and international tournaments.

The Cosmos defeated Ottawa Fury FC, 3-2, in The Championship Final, winning the club's second title in three seasons. New York has retooled in the offseason with the signings of the Venezuelans Yohandry Orozco and that nation's leader in appearances and goals, Juan Arango, among other international signings.

"We are very excited about the 2016 season," Cosmos Coach Giovanni Savarese said. "We did a lot of work last year to secure our core team for this campaign and we have also made some great new additions. The hunger within the team to win another championship is huge and we're looking forward to getting the season underway."

The NASL, which has three new teams (Rayo OKC, Miami FC, and Puerto Rico FC) in 2016, has also added well-known players, including Derek Boateng (Ghana/Rayo OKC) and Wilson Palacios (Honduras/Miami FC).

"We want to go out and put a product on the field that the fans are proud of and can get behind," Rayo OKC Coach Alen Marcina said. "The short-term goals are to make sure the style of play we want to implement the guys buy into, and if we can exhibit that to the fans and the league, we'll deem that as a success and results will come."

Two expansion teams – Rayo OKC and Miami FC – will strive for a fast start in the Spring Season. Puerto Rico begins play in the Fall Season.

Alessandro Nesta, Coach of Miami FC, said: "The NASL is a tough league with some competitive teams, but I am confident in what we are building here in Miami FC. My team will be ready and competing for the NASL Championship. We are determined to make a statement in our inaugural year."

Professional soccer returns to Puerto Rico in July when the club, which is owned by the New York Knicks star Carmelo Anthony, joins the fray.

"With the upcoming NASL Spring Season just around the corner it's exciting times for all the clubs," Puerto Rico FC Coach Adrian Whitbread said. "Even though we here at Puerto Rico FC won't be starting until July, preparations are well under way. We will be keeping a close eye on all the teams, but our focus is on making the postseason come the end of the Fall Season."

Fury FC, after losing to the Cosmos in The Championship Final, are looking to build from a successful and surprising run after winning the Fall Season title. Under the direction of Paul Dalglish, who replaces Marc Dos Santos as coach, the club retained important veterans in goalkeeper Romuald Peiser and the Canadian national team captain Julian de Guzman, while also adding players with connections to the British Isles, including James Bailey and Gerardo Bruña.

"With the signings announced in the NASL the standard of the league will be taking a step up in 2016," Dalglish said. "It is an exciting time for the league and we plan to improve on our success of last season and compete for a championship."

Minnesota United has reached The Championship Semifinals in two successive seasons, but has come up short of reaching the final both times.

The Loons, who had the league's most-potent offense last year, have added firepower for 2016. Stefano Pinho, the 2015 Golden Boot and Golden Ball winner, swapped the sun of Fort Lauderdale for the Land of 10,000 Lakes. Lance Laing, a Jamaican international and dangerous attacking threat on the left, also signed with Minnesota in the offseason from FC Edmonton.

Christian Ramirez is back for another NASL season with Minnesota United FC

"We certainly have the firepower to achieve what we're trying to achieve: winning a championship," said Carl Craig, who takes over from Manny Lagos as Minnesota's Coach. Lagos moved to the front office as the club's sporting director.

The Fort Lauderdale Strikers are another side that has reached the postseason two straight seasons. After losing in the final in 2014, the Strikers fell to eventual champions, the Cosmos, in the semifinals in 2015. The club has added experienced players such as Kléberson and Aurelio Saco Vértiz, and exciting talent like Matheus Carvalho, who recently played for AS Monaco in the UEFA Champions League.

Caio Zanardi, the club's Coach and general manager, knows that 2016 will be competitive.

"The level is always very strong with the Cosmos, Minnesota, and Tampa Bay" he said. "You have Carolina and it's always complicated to play against them, there's Edmonton, and Miami FC and Rayo OKC are new teams as well. All the teams will not be easy or simple to play against."

The Tampa Bay Rowdies narrowly missed the postseason, finishing just two points behind the Strikers for the fourth and final spot. The club added Tom Heinemann and quality midfielders, including Kalif Alhassan, Michael Nanchoff, and Junior Burgos. The Rowdies also re-signed Freddy Adu.

"We're excited to get underway as we know it will be another competitive season," Rowdies Coach Stuart Campbell said. "From a Rowdies perspective, we are looking to improve based off of last season."

The Carolina RailHawks and FC Edmonton both aim to improve on mid-table finishes in 2015. The RailHawks embark on their first season under Steve Malik's ownership and have built a strong squad. The club signed defenders Paul Black and Kareem Moses, and has added another attacking option in Brian Shriver, who won the 2013 Golden Boot with Carolina and will call WakeMed Soccer Park home once more.

"It will be important for us to put a strong team in the field that has a chance to win the championship and reflect all the positive changes we have gone through since our new owner came on board," RailHawks Coach Colin Clarke said.

FC Edmonton has also improved its squad. The experienced fullback Adam Eckersley and forward Jake Keegan, who scored more than 30 goals in the past two years in Ireland, have bolstered the squad – one that Edmonton Coach Colin Miller believes is the best the club has put together.

"This is the most exciting group of players we have been able to assemble at FC Edmonton and we know that the league is getting better every year and that the teams are strengthening their squads," he said.

In the club's second season, Indy Eleven showed flashes of promise in 2015, but also signs of a club still trying to find its footing. With a new coach in the experienced Tim Hankinson, the club has been revamped with experienced players. The veterans Jon Busch, Lovel Palmer, and several players from Ottawa's squad from last year – Colin Falvey, Sinisa Ubiparipovic, and Nicki Paterson – have moved to the Circle City. The club has also held onto promising youngsters in Dylan Mares and Duke Lacroix.

Indy Eleven ready for 2016 campaign

"We looked at what players we had options on from last year that we felt were good professionals and had gained starting level experience and retained as many of those as we could," Hankinson said. "In trying to improve the overall roster most of these players were planned to move into support positions, which allowed me to go out and basically recreate a starting lineup with new players."

Off the field last year's expansion side, Jacksonville Armada FC, had tremendous success. On the field, the club showed the struggles that expansion teams often face, finishing at the bottom of the NASL's Combined Standings. The squad's fortunes for the upcoming campaign have been placed in the hands of the former U.S. international goalkeeper Tony Meola. It's a squad that is built to win, and win now.

"The goal and I probably have the same goal all the other teams in the league have and that's to win a championship," Meola said. "We know that there are a lot of steps we have to take.

"We ended up at the bottom last year and the goal is to flip the table for us and end up somewhere at the top. It's going to take a lot of hard work. We're not there yet, but we know where we want to go."

The NASL is poised to build from an exciting finish in 2015 in which nearly all league clubs remained in contention for a postseason berth late in the season. With the addition of three new clubs – and owners such as Riccardo Silva and Paolo Maldini, Anthony, and Rayo Vallecano of Spain's La Liga – quality extends league-wide, from the playing field to the front office to the owners' suites. Only four teams qualify for The Championship, the league's four-team postseason tournament, which means that 2016 promises to be nothing short of a dogfight.

"The best part of 2016 will be welcoming the three new teams and new groups of supporters in Miami, Puerto Rico, and Oklahoma City," Commissioner Peterson said. "All three clubs come into the NASL with globally recognized ownership groups and will contribute increasing our already highly competitive matches. It's going to be so competitive on the field."

South African Tiyi Shipalane, who shared the NASL's assist leadership in 2015, is back for another season with RailHawks

The Carolina RailHawks finished sixth in the Combined Standings, and with Jacksonville, conceded the most goals (49) last year.

To strengthen their backline, the RailHawks signed Simon Mensing, Paul Black, Kareem Moses, and Drew Beckie, all whom played in the league a year ago. Carolina also re-signed the captain Connor Tobin and Kupono Low to shore up the back line.

"We've had great signings during the offseason with lots of talented and strong players," RailHawks Coach Colin Clarke said. "Some of them are coming back to the team and have been successful with the RailHawks in the past. We are very excited about the team and are looking forward to the 2016 season."

Honduran native Cristian Raudales will once again be key to Eddies midfield

FC Edmonton finished in the middle of the Combined Standings a year ago, but there are clear signs the club is headed toward bigger and better things in 2016.

The Eddies re-signed Sainey Nyassi and Dustin Corea, and along with the signing of the Canadian international Nik Ledgerwood, will have plenty of experience in the midfield. Edmonton also added depth to its back line with Adam Eckersley, and another goalscorer in Jake Keegan, who scored 30 goals in all competitions over the past two years in Ireland.

"This is the most exciting group of players we have been able to assemble at FC Edmonton and we know that the league is getting better every year and that the teams are strengthening their squads," FC Edmonton Coach Colin Miller said.

Brazilian Victor Pagliari Giro, also known as PC, scored five goals and dished out four assists in his inaugural NASL season with Strikers in 2015.

After reaching The Championship two years in a row, the Fort Lauderdale Strikers are determined to get over the hump and take home silverware in 2016.

The squad has been remade with its new coach Caio Zanardi, who also serves as the club's general manager, at the helm. The Strikers added experience in attack with Kléberson, Adrianinho, and the recent UEFA Champions League participant Matheus Carvalho, as well as another goalscorer in Maicon Santos.

"The level is always very strong with the Cosmos, Minnesota, and Tampa Bay," Zanardi said. "You have Carolina and it's always complicated to play against them, there's Edmonton and Miami FC and Rayo OKC are new teams as well. All the teams will not be easy or simple to play against. We need to be professional and study to be ready for all of the teams."

Brad Ring will once again be key in Indy's midfield for 2016.

After an up-and-down season in 2015, Indy Eleven is set to take a leap forward in the club's third year in the NASL.

Under new guidance in veteran coach Tim Hankinson, Indy Eleven bolstered the roster with experienced players. In a serious push to make its first postseason appearance, the club signed three members of the Ottawa Fury FC squad that reached The Championship Final. Young and exciting players, Dylan Mares and Duke Lacroix are back for 2016 and both could be poised for breakout seasons.

"I think it's a no excuses kind of lineup," Hankinson said. "It is not a developmental group. These are established veteran players that, in their journeys have hoisted cups, worn captain's armbands and know how to win."

Haitian international Pascal Millien, who scored six times and led the team in assist in 2015, is back for the Armada FC in 2016.

Jacksonville Armada FC experienced growing pains on the field in its first season, handicapped by an inability to win a game on the road.

With a new season on the horizon, the club made significant changes.

In came the former U.S. international Tony Meola as the club's new coach along with a handful of new players. The NASL veteran Richie Ryan joined the team along with Matt Fondy, Bryan Burke, and the West Bromwich Albion Academy graduate Danny Barrow. While Meola was a goalkeeper in his playing days, the Armada FC is expected to be an attack-oriented but organized side.

"I say this all the time – I want to play in the attacking half of the field, but not just throw people forward," Meola said. "I want my team to be organized, that's what I've done my whole life – organize teams from behind. If I had to choose between attacking or defense, I'd say I'm an attacking coach. I want my guys to be aggressive in certain areas of the field."

Miami FC became a reality in May 2015 when the NASL awarded the team to the co-owners Riccardo Silva and Paolo Maldini. They have steadily, expertly built a team capable of competing right out of the gate.

With the former Italy national team and AC Milan defender Alessandro Nesta running the team from the bench, Miami FC has recruited players with top-flight experience in Europe, including Wilson Palacios, Matuzalém and Dario Cvitanich, among others. Nesta also looks to provide a platform to develop players, signing several from the U.S. collegiate ranks, including the twins Conner and Calvin Rezende.

"The NASL is a tough league with some competitive teams, but I am confident in what we are building here in Miami FC," Nesta said. "My team will be ready and competing for the NASL championship. We are determined to make a statement in our inaugural year."

Christian Ramirez looks to continue his scoring spree for Minnesota in 2016.

Minnesota United FC enters 2016 after a second successive loss in The Championship Semifinals.

The Loons have added more firepower to the league's most prolific attack (54 goals) from a year ago with the additions of the 2015 Golden Boot and Golden Ball winner Stefano Pinho and the Best XI selection Lance Laing. Minnesota has kept the core of its team together including Christian Ramirez, Justin Davis, and Kevin Venegas. Where there has been change is on the touchline as Manny Lagos moves into a full-time role as the sporting director and Carl Craig moves up from assistant and takes over as the squad's coach.

"A lot of what you've seen with Manny was the product of my work and vice-versa," Craig said. "You're not going to see a massive shift, but we look to evolve every year and there are a few little areas that I don't think we were great at last year so we've got to look to be more proactive."

Carlos Mendes looks to once again lead the Cosmos' back line into 2016.

The New York Cosmos hoisted the Soccer Bowl Trophy for the second time in three seasons – and a seventh time dating to the league's Legendary Era – as the club aims to grab more silverware in 2016. The Cosmos were crowned Spring Season Champions and then finished first in the Combined Standings (on the second tiebreaker).

While the Spanish national team stars Raúl and Marcos Senna have retired, the Cosmos have retooled in strong fashion. The Venezuelan international Juan Arango was the marquee signing in the offseason. The club also added the Costa Rican international Jairo Arrieta to lead the front line and added Niko Kranjcar.

The majority of last season's key contributors has returned for the coming campaign, led by Danny Szetela, Jimmy Maurer, and Sebastián Guenzatti.

"We are very excited about the 2016 season," Cosmos Coach Giovanni Savarese said. "We did a lot of work last year to secure our core team for this campaign and we have also made some great new additions. The hunger within the team to win another championship is huge and we're looking forward to getting the season underway."

Canadian international captain Julian De Guzman is set to once again lead the Fury FC in 2016.

After emerging as the surprise club of 2015, Ottawa Fury FC fell excruciatingly shy of lifting the Soccer Bowl Trophy. Ottawa, did however, win the club's first piece of silverware, claiming the Fall Season title after losing just once in the second of the split seasons.

Changes, however, have been extensive during the offseason. Paul Dalglish has replaced Marc Dos Santos as the new coach, and Dalglish has had to rebuild the club's roster.

Ottawa has retained the Canadian national team captain Julian de Guzman and signed another Canadian international in Marcel de Jong. Exciting young midfielder Mauro Eustaquio and the record-setting goalkeeper Romuald Peiser (who won the league's Golden Glove Award) also make Ottawa a 2016 contender.

"We have had a hugely successful recruitment season and we are fully confident we have players that have the quality and motivation to work together with our passionate supporters to make 2016 a memorable season in the nation's capital," Dalglish said.

The club was welcomed into the NASL last June and opted to begin play in the 2016 Fall Season. Puerto Rico FC is backed by the New York Knicks star Carmelo Anthony, who has roots on the island, as soccer and the NASL return to Puerto Rico for the first time in several years.

Puerto Rico FC should have a strong core of players from the Caribbean island – the club's first signing was the Puerto Rican international Jackie Marrero. Returning to the tropics is the club's coach, Adrian Whitbread, who managed the Puerto Rico Islanders who played in the NASL in 2012.

"With the upcoming NASL Spring Season just around the corner it's exciting times for all the clubs," Whitbread said. "Even though at Puerto Rico FC we won't be starting until July, preparations are well under way. We will be keeping a close eye on all the teams, but our focus is on making the postseason come the end of the Fall Season."

Rayo OKC – a partnership between the local owner Sean Jones and Rayo Vallecano's Raúl Martin Presa – had to hit the ground running after entering the league last November.

The club, though, has a title-winning coach in Alen Marcina, who led the San Antonio Scorpions to victory in The Championship Final in 2014. Marcina has taken familiar faces with him to Oklahoma in Billy Forbes, Tyler Gibson, and Marvin Chávez, among others.

The club also boasts a strong mix of veterans and youth in the Ghana international Derek Boateng and Georgios Samaras.

"We embrace the challenge and look forward to it," Marcina said. "We want to go out and put a product on the field that the fans are proud of and can get behind. The short-term goals are to make sure the style of play we want to implement the guys buy into, and if we can exhibit that to the fans and the league, we'll deem that as a success and results will come."

U.S. international Freddy Adu in action for the Rowdies.

The Tampa Bay Rowdies fell agonizingly short of reaching The Championship, finishing outside the final postseason berth only by two points.

The Rowdies have strengthened the squad for a postseason push in 2016, particularly in the midfield with Kalif Alhassan, Junior Burgos, and Freddy Adu, who was re-signed. The club also added Tom Heinemann, who scored four goals last postseason, and was a driving force behind Ottawa Fury FC's run to The Championship Final.

"We're excited to get underway as we know it will be another competitive season," Rowdies Coach Stuart Campbell said. "From a Rowdies perspective, we are looking to improve based off of last season."

Media Guidelines & Regulations

NASL PR staff members and team PR staff members must ensure that all working conditions are harmonious and a balance is struck between the needs of the media (as representatives of the fans and the public) and the needs of the clubs. It is the duty of the team PR staff members to adhere to the following guidelines:

Game Notes: Teams will provide games notes to media members on the day of a match.

Media Credentials: All teams must print and distribute media credentials to all designated media members who will be working within the grounds of the host stadium. Each team should print both single-game or season-long media credentials. Photographers and/or videographers must be attached to a legitimate media organization to acquire credentials. All Teams must provide colored bibs for still photographers and TV broadcast crew members. The two groups should be wearing different colored bibs that are designated by each team.

Press Box: The press box area is a neutral zone. Both home and visiting team personnel and media shall refrain from yelling or cheering. Media must not wear team apparel in the press box and are reminded to remain neutral when in areas made accessible by their credential. Media must not consume alcohol while in possession of a media credential and may not request autographs. Violators may be asked to leave the press box area and/or have their credential privileges suspended or revoked.

Locker Rooms: Team locker rooms will not be open to media members at any time before, during, and after every match – unless a club has received specific clearance from the league office to open them. The home and away team training/treatment areas and referee locker rooms are also strictly off limits to all members of the media. All regulations regarding media access to the locker rooms should be clearly communicated to team staff and security personnel to ensure a secure environment. TV broadcast crew members may film inside the locker rooms prior to the team's arrival, but only after coordinating with home team and visiting team PR staff.

Stadium Access: Credentialed media members will have access to the stadium, professional workrooms, stadium seating, and postgame media activities. During the match, all credentialed media will have access to the press box, which will be regulated by home team PR members. In addition, all accredited media members should be given a seat in the press box if possible.

Traveling Media: The home team shall provide press box seating for traveling media members at each game and should keep in mind the needs of media members traveling from the visiting team's area.

Media Guidelines & Regulations

Media Access to Training Sessions: If a training session is declared a closed session, teams must allow media a minimum of 15 minutes for interviews after practice.

Home Team PR Staff Responsibilities: The home team PR staff must be in attendance on game day to attend to working media members before, during, and after the match. For a full list of responsibilities, please refer to the Media Operations Checklist.

Statistics Crew: Statistical information such as boxscore and updated league standings, etc., in the press box or in a location with good view of the match.

Still Photography: Still photographers, with the proper bib, are permitted to shoot matches in areas specifically designated by the home team. If a home and/or visiting team PR staff has a specific team photographer at the match, then those individuals will wear a different color bib to indicate that they can be granted special access to any stadium level as long they do not obstruct the view of spectators, security personnel, medical officials, and emergency exits. At no time are photographers allowed on the field of play.

Interview Area: The home team PR director will designate a suitable postgame interview area on or near the field of play. This area shall be equipped with a team/sponsor backdrop to create a 'coaches TV area' where interviews may be conducted. Home and visiting team PR staff are responsible for bringing their own coach and players to the Coaches TV Area upon the conclusion of the game.

Player Interviews: Players giving interviews who should have played a significant role in the outcome of the match will be selected at the PR director's discretion. Media may request a specific player, and the team PR directors will dictate the length of the interview. Additional postgame interviews for coaches and players can be done in the designated media mixed zone area, which is between the locker room and the team buses at the venue.

Official Interviews: The NASL Commissioner and team owners may be made available for interviews to media at the discretion of the home and visiting PR directors and after consultation with the league's communication staff. Game officials will not be available for interviews and the official's locker room remains off limits to all media.

US Soccer Federation

United States Soccer Federation - Founded 1913
FIFA Affiliated 1914; CONCACAF Affiliated 1961

As the governing body of soccer in all forms and at all levels in the United States, U.S. Soccer has played an integral role in charting the course for the sport for more than 100 years. In that time, the federation's mission statement has been clear and simple: To make soccer, in all its forms, a preeminent sport in the United States and to continue the development of soccer at all recreational and competitive levels.

In 1989, the U.S. men's national team had not played in a World Cup in almost 40 years and the U.S. women's program was in its early stages. U.S. Soccer was hosting games in small stadiums it could not fill, few matches were televised, soccer stadiums were not even in the blueprint stage, and there were no high-level professional outdoor leagues. Since that time, the state of soccer in the U.S. has been transformed.

In Brazil in 2014, the men's national team competed in its seventh consecutive FIFA World Cup. The team progressed to the Round of 16 for the second straight tournament.

U.S. Soccer is a world leader at every level of the women's game. The American women have won three FIFA Women's World Cups (1991, 1999 and 2015) and four Olympic gold medals (1996, 2004, 2008 and 2012) – an accomplishment unmatched, men or women, in Olympic competition. The United States has also hosted three wildly successful World Cups (men in 1994; women in 1999 and 2003) with the support of its members and anchored by strong organizational abilities.

U.S. Soccer continues to support the development of referees in CONCACAF, with a reinvigorated focus on education and training, including the care and nurturing of professional referees. In 2012, the Professional Referee Organization was created to manage the referee programs and to increase the quality of younger officials in professional leagues in the U.S. and Canada. The top referees are considered for FIFA competitions.

NASL & Lamar Hunt
U.S. Open Cup

NASL teams have competed in the Lamar Hunt U.S. Open Cup since 2012, having sent teams to the quarterfinals in two separate years.

After four seasons of competing, NASL teams have outscored their opposition 98-91 in 59 games, while posting a 27W-5D-27L record, including 14 shutouts.

NY Cosmos defeated NYCFC on penalites during 2015 Open Cup

The Carolina RailHawks have had the most success, reaching the quarterfinals in 2013 and 2014. Brian Shriver, who recently returned to the RailHawks ahead of the 2016 Spring Season, leads all NASL players in goals in the competition with six. The Atlanta Silverbacks also reached the quarterfinals in 2014.

The Cup has helped to foster rivalries for NASL teams, regardless of league affiliation. The RailHawks knocked out the Los Angeles Galaxy of MLS three years in a row from 2012-14. The New York Cosmos have ousted a New York metropolitan area MLS side in back-to-back years. Last year the Cosmos defeated New York City FC of MLS in a penalty-kick shootout before 11,446 at Shuart Stadium in Hempstead, N.Y., the biggest turnout involving an NASL team in the tournament.

Played annually since 1914, the Open Cup (a single-elimination tournament open to all affiliated amateur and professional teams) is the oldest cup competition in the United States. The Open Cup winner qualifies as one of the four U.S. teams for the CONCACAF Champions League.

Canada Soccer Association

Canada Soccer Association
Founded: 1912
FIFA Affiliated: 1913
CONCACAF Affiliated: 1961

In Canada, the sport is governed by the Canadian Soccer Association (CSA), which was established in 1912.

There are nearly 850,000 registered Canada Soccer members in 1,500 clubs across the 144 districts that operate in 12 provincial/territorial member associations. The CSA also has five National Training Centers – British Columbia, Prairies, Ontario, Quebec and Atlantic.

After its first (and only) qualification for a FIFA World Cup (Mexico 1986), Canada has gone on to stage five FIFA tournaments: U-17 World Cup (1987), U-20 Women's World Cup (2002), U-20 World Cup (2007), U-20 Women's World Cup (2014) and the Women's World Cup (2015).

Canada's national teams have won nine confederation championships. The men's national team has won the CONCACAF Men's Championship (1985) and the CONCACAF Gold Cup (2000); Canada's women's team has won the CONCACAF Women's Championship (1998 and 2010). The men's youth team won the CONCACAF Under-20 Championship (1986 and 1996), while the women's youth team won the CONCACAF Women's U-20 Championship (2004 and 2008) and the CONCACAF Women's U-17 Championship (2010).

NASL & Amway Canadian Championship

FC Edmonton first entered the competition in 2011 and was joined by Ottawa Fury FC in 2014. The NASL sides compete against three MLS teams – Vancouver Whitecaps FC, Montreal Impact, and Toronto FC – for the right to be the champion of Canada.

The Eddies have come closest to reaching the final in recent years, but have fallen just short in the past two years after conceding late goals to the Impact (2014) and Whitecaps (2015). The Eddies' Tomi Ameobi is currently the top scorer in the competition with five goals.

The Amway Canadian Championship has been held annually since 2008 and the winner of the competition qualifies for the CONCACAF Champions League.

FC Edmonton's Tomi Ameobi is the career goalscoring leader in the Canadian Championship

Puerto Rican Soccer Federation

Federación Puertorriqueña de Fútbol
Founded: 1940
FIFA Affiliated: 1960
CONCACAF Affiliated: 1961

The Federación Puertorriqueña de Fútbol (FPF) was founded in 1940 and admitted to FIFA in 1960.

Its mission is to grow soccer on the island at all levels while promoting values, therefore creating a legacy and a solid base for future generations.

The Puerto Rican national teams are active at the U-15, U-17, U-20, U-23, and senior levels for both men and women.

Also, Puerto Rico was chosen by FIFA as the trial base for FIFA 11, a program that was extremely successful, and now, the FPF staff has been granted the responsibility of growing and cultivating it around the region..

CONCACAF

Confederation Of North, Central America and Caribbean Association Football
Founded: 1940
FIFA Affiliated: 1940

The Confederation of North, Central America and Caribbean Association Football (CONCACAF) is the sport's governing body in the region, and one of six continental confederations that administer the sport along with FIFA, the world governing body. It has 41 member associations through offices located in Miami, New York, Guatemala City, and the Cayman Islands, and is composed of a Congress, Executive Committee, General Secretariat, and several other committees.

CONCACAF – formed in 1961 from the merger of the Football Confederation of Central America and the Caribbean (CCCF) and the North American Football Confederation (NAFC) – consists of three sub-regions: North America (three countries), Central America (seven countries under the regional entity Unión Centroamericana de Fútbol - UNCAF), and the Caribbean (31 countries under the regional entity Caribbean Football Union - CFU).

At the CONCACAF Ordinary Congress held on April 19, 2013, in Panama City, Panama, five national associations that previously held associate member status – French Guiana, Guadeloupe, Martinique, St. Martin, and St. Maarten – became full members. The island of Bonaire was accepted by the Congress as an associate member.

As the administrative body for the region, CONCACAF manages competitions, offers technical and administrative training courses, while also actively promoting and developing the game.

The biennial Gold Cup for full national teams and the annual Scotiabank Champions League for club teams are CONCACAF's most visible competitions. The confederation organizes championships at the U-17 and U-20 levels for men and women that lead to direct qualification for FIFA competitions. It also supports FIFA in coordinating qualifying tournaments for the World Cup, the Women's World Cup and Olympic Games, and also the Beach Soccer and Futsal World Cups.

2015 NASL Internationals

Ottawa Fury' FC's Julian DeGuzman once again captained Canada's MNT in 2015

In 2015, 18 NASL players had the honor of representing their national teams in international play around the world.

Ten of the league's 11 teams sent players to 10 different countries to participate in World Cup qualifying matches and regional tournaments, such as the CONCACAF Gold Cup, Africa Cup of Nations qualifying, and Copa América.

The Jamaican international Lance Laing played in Copa América (the first Caribbean nation to compete in the tournament) and also played during Jamaica's surprising run to the Gold Cup final. It was a year to remember for Ottawa's Julian de Guzman, who broke Canada's career appearance mark when he earned his 85th cap during a 0-0 draw with El Salvador in a World Cup Qualifier.

The Championship History

Legendary Era

After the creation of the North American Soccer League in 1968, the league's championship games were known as the NASL Final until 1974.

The Atlanta Chiefs, Dallas Tornado, Los Angeles Aztecs, New York Cosmos, Philadelphia Atoms, and Rochester Lancers were crowned champions after winning the NASL Final (in either a single game, home-and-away playoff, or best-of-three series). The exception was in 1969 when no championship game was played and the Kansas City Spurs were crowned the league winners, after amassing the most points in the regular season.

The NASL also recognized two champions in 1967: the Oakland Clippers of the NPSL and the Los Angeles Wolves of the USA, before they merged into the NASL.

Tampa Bay Rowdies lifted their first Soccer Bowl Trophy in 1975.

Soccer Bowl

The NASL Soccer Bowl began in 1975, when Commissioner Phil Woosnam conceived a week-long, neutral-site championship, similar to the NFL's Super Bowl. Unlike the Super Bowl, Soccer Bowl was not denoted by Roman numerals; instead the last digits of the year were used (for example Soccer Bowl '75).

In 1984, the league changed the neutral-site format to a best-of-three series played at each team's home field. That year the event was promoted as the Soccer Bowl Series '84, though it was still generally acknowledged as the Soccer Bowl.

The Tampa Bay Rowdies were the first team to lift the Soccer Bowl Trophy, in 1975, when they defeated the Portland Timbers, 2-0, at San Jose's Spartan Stadium.

Former Portugal international striker Eusébio led the Toronto Metros-Croatia to the NASL title in 1976, becoming the first team from Canada to win the trophy. The next year, Brazilian forward and three-time World Cup winner Pelé concluded his playing career by leading the New York Cosmos to their first Soccer Bowl title by posting a 2-1 win over the Seattle Sounders at Portland's Civic Stadium.

In 1978, a record crowd of 74,091 was on hand at Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, N.J., as the Cosmos topped the Rowdies, 3-1, to win Soccer Bowl '78. Giants Stadium again staged the Soccer Bowl in 1979, when the Vancouver Whitecaps became the second Canadian team to win the NASL title, defeating the Rowdies, 2-1.

The Cosmos regained the title in 1980, blanking the Fort Lauderdale Strikers, 3-0, at Robert F. Kennedy Stadium in Washington.

After losing the 1981 title to the Chicago Sting at Toronto's Exhibition Stadium, the Cosmos captured their fourth Soccer Bowl, and the club's fifth NASL Championship, in 1982 with a 1-0 shutout of the Seattle Sounders in San Diego.

Vancouver became the second Canadian city to stage the Soccer Bowl as the Tulsa Roughnecks topped the Toronto Blizzard, 2-0, at BC Place in 1983.

The next year, Soccer Bowl was a best-of-three series as the Sting won their second league title, sweeping the Blizzard in two matches, first at Chicago's Comiskey Park and then at Toronto's Varsity Stadium, to capture the 1984 title.

Cosmos' captured league-best third (in modern era) NASL Championship in 2015 and seventh overall (including five from legendary era).

Modern Era

With the launch of the new NASL and the start of play in 2011, the NSC Minnesota Stars (now Minnesota United FC) and then the Tampa Bay Rowdies in 2012 were the first champions of the league's Modern Era playing a two-leg series. Minnesota defeated the Fort Lauderdale Strikers in 2011 and then lost to the Rowdies in a penalty-kick shootout the next year.

In 2013, the format shifted to a single-game NASL Final (for the first time since 1983) between the winners of the Spring Season (New York Cosmos) and the Fall Season (Atlanta Silverbacks). New York captured its sixth championship, 1-0, on a free kick by the Spanish star Marcos Senna.

The Championship History

The Championship, the league's four-team postseason tournament, was introduced in 2014. The winners of the Spring Season (Minnesota) and the Fall Season (San Antonio), plus the two teams (New York and Fort Lauderdale) with the next-best point totals in the Combined Standings also advanced. After the Cosmos and Loons were eliminated, the host San Antonio captured their first NASL Soccer Bowl Trophy, defeating the Strikers, 2-1, at Toyota Field in The Championship Final.

In 2015, the Cosmos again reigned over the NASL, defeating Ottawa Fury FC, 3-2, in the league's final. New York, the Spring Season Champion, defeated the Strikers in The Championship Semifinals. Ottawa, the Fall Season winners, ousted Minnesota United, 2-1, in extra time to advance. The Championship Final was played before a Modern Era record crowd of 10,166 at Shuart Stadium in Hempstead, N.Y. The Soccer Bowl Trophy is the third-oldest professional soccer prize in the United States.
